Features of the November Number of the Journal of Religion

How is the cause of religion faring in the war-torn nations of Europe? A vivid picture of the conditions which Protestantism must face in one country is furnished in an article,

The Religious Situation in France, by PROFESSOR MAURICE GOGUEL, of Paris.

The present issue contains a remarkably stimulating presentation of the idea of God as the critical philosopher sees it. But what does the unschooled religious man today mean by the term "God" as he faces the universe of our common understanding? A wise and thoughtful pastor answers this question. Read

The Unconventional God, by REV. J. E. LE BOSQUET, Fall River, Massachusetts.

When the New Testament is investigated by methods of critical scholarship, what becomes of its religious authority? One of the foremost scholars in this realm discusses this problem in an article:

The Right of the New Testament, by PROFESSOR ERNEST F. SCOTT, of Union Theological Seminary.

The Reunion of Christendom! How many thousands of Christians are ardently praying and working for it! But can it be achieved by the pathway of uniformity in belief? Readers of The Journal will welcome a candid discussion of this point.

The Proposed Creedal Basis of Christian Reunion, by DR. C. J. CADOUX, of Bradford, England.

The religion of Mysticism is today attracting renewed attention. A careful examination of this type of religion is given in a study entitled:

Mysticism and Personality, by PROFESSOR JOHN WRIGHT BUCKHAM, Pacific School of Religion.

The usual extended reviews of important books, annotated list of recent books, and reports of current events and discussions will appear.

A Christian's Appreciation of Other Faiths

By REV. GILBERT REID, D.D.

Author of China at a Glance, China Captive or Free, etc.

Cloth, price $2.50

A series of lectures on world religions from the Unitarian standpoint. Mr. Reid has been Director of the International Institute of Shanghai for the past ten years and his observations are filled with dynamic insight of oriental ethics and philosophy.

NEW EDITION

Belief in God and Immortality

A Psychological, Anthropological and Statistical Study

By JAMES H. LEUBA

*Professor of Psychology and Pedagogy in Bryn Mawr College
Author of "A Psychological Study of Religion;
Its Origin, Function and Future"*

Cloth, price $2.50

Facts, not speculations, are the basis of this book. It seems scarcely necessary to mention that the author is an authoritative psychologist, familiar with recent anthropological literature and philosophical discussions on these topics.

Life Eternal

Past—Present—Future

By BARTHELEMY PROSPER ENFANTIN

Translated by Fred Rothwell. Cloth, price $1.60

Enfantin, born in 1796, was one of the founders of French Socialism.

Enfantin regarded himself as not only the bearer of a heavenly message but as the word of God incarnate. He displayed both the strength and weakness of an enthusiast. His influence over the finest intellects of his age was wonderful. The new religion spread all over Europe until in 1832 the halls of the new sect were closed by the government. Enfantin was arrested, tried and found guilty and sentenced to imprisonment. This proved a deathblow to the society.

The present volume in an abridged form represents the fruit of Enfantin's ripest thought on purely philosophical and moral as apart from political subjects.
